Racy Anti-Meth Campaign Ready For Results In Colorado

May 12, 2009

The Colorado Meth Project is the first of its kind in the state. You might have seen some of these graphic ads on your TV over the past few weeks. This campaign on the airwaves is similar to what Montana launched a few years ago but organizers say local outreach will be uniquely Colorado. For more information and to check out some of their other TV ads visit ColoradoMethProject.org.
